Response to Request for information on immigration Related Detention from Graduate Institute.

1. As far as Prison and Probation Services fields of responsibility, there are two locations, where non-citizens can be held of immigration-related reasons. It consists of a local prison, Aabenraa Arrest and Ellebæk Institution. The two institutions had a capacity in 2012 on a daily average basis of 123 places for asylumseekers. Besides that people can be detained in Remand Prison according to the Act of Alien.
2. The total number of people detained in Remand prisons according to the Alien Act (immigrationlaw?) makes a total of :
2012: 127
2011: 82
2010: 63.
3. 86 asylum seekers were placed in Aabenraa Arrest and Ellebæk Institution on a daily average basis in 2012. In 2011 it was 65 and in 2010 it was 53.

Outside the Prison and Probation Services fields of responsibility asylum seekers are placed in Red Cross Asylumcenters.

ⁱ The list should include any facility where an individual is prevented from freely leaving the facility at his or her will. In addition to long-term detention facilities used for the purposes of facilitating deportation (including both criminal prisons and specially designed immigration detention centers), this list should include any "reception centers" that prevent asylum seekers from freely exiting the premises; any shelters or juvenile centers that deprive minors, including both accompanied and unaccompanied minors, of their liberty; as well as any transit facilities or border guard stations located in airports or other ports of entry into the country that can hold people for more than three days to prevent entry into the country.

ⁱⁱ Please briefly explain who is included in these totals (for example, do they include unaccompanied minors, asylum seekers waiting for decisions on their claims, illegal immigrants in deportation proceedings, and/or non-citizens who have been placed in deportation proceedings after a criminal conviction?).

ⁱⁱⁱ Please indicate if this list includes both people who have been detained after filing an asylum request either upon entry as well as those who filed a claim after being apprehended. Also, please indicate if this list includes asylum seekers who have been placed in secure reception centers for periods exceeding three days. If it does not, can you provide separate statistics indicating the numbers of asylum seekers placed in secure reception centers for periods exceeding three days for the years 2010, 2011, and 2012?
